REPORT OF THE COUNCIL FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30th, 1961

THE COUNCIL has pleasure in presenting the 50th Annual Report of the Society.

Miss Elizabeth Poston has completed her sixth and final year as President. All our members know with what grace and charm she has filled the position, but probably the Council alone know how much practical help she has given, and how much time she has devoted to the work. A President so hard-working as well as so gifted must be rare in any Society, and the Council take this opportunity of thanking her for all she has done for us.

Fixtures.

In addition to our 50th Anniversary Celebrations, we have held eight Fixtures during the year. Our policy has been to encourage younger artists, and to keep a good balance in our programmes between youth and experience. We have also introduced guest artists from time to time, and in this connection we were glad to welcome our old friends Terence Beckles and Bernard Richards, with the Richards Piano Quartet; and James Verity, with some members of the Portia Wind Ensemble.

On November 30th we devoted a concert to the works of Chopin, as a contribution to the Anniversary Year. This was noteworthy for the beautiful playing of Liza Fuchsova and of Eleanor Warren and Peter Gould, whose performance of the sonata for cello and piano was all the more remarkable in that Mr. Gould had kindly taken the place of Paul Hamburger at short notice. 'The Hadley Family Ensemble'—of which the youngest member was only six years old—gave us an enchanting performance of carols at our Christmas Party. It augurs well for the future of the Society to find the next generation so capable of taking part in our musical activities.

It was a great pleasure to welcome at our Fixtures the partnerships of Hebe and Reginald Gibbs; Eileen Croxford and David Parkhouse; Margaret Bissett and Harry Stubbs.

Fiftieth Anniversary Celebrations.

The Council decided that the most suitable way of celebrating the 50th Anniversary would be to hold a Reception, a Concert by younger members, and a Wigmore Hall Recital by the more established artists. On the anniversary of the inaugural meeting (July 15th, 1911) at which Miss Eggar began her association with the Society, a 'Birthday Party' was held at the House of Commons, by kind permission of Mr. George Darling, M.P. Over 300 members and guests crowded into the rooms, and there was ample opportunity for conversation and refreshment before the short ceremony. Miss Elizabeth Poston conveyed the greetings and good wishes of Miss Eggar, whose illness prevented her from coming, and made a most felicitous and witty speech. Mr. Keith Falkner, Director of the Royal College of Music, proposed the toast of the Society. He spoke in particular of his long-standing friendship with Dr. Emily Daymond, second President of the Society, and of how much his early musical career owed to her encouragement. Miss Astra Desmond replied on behalf of the Society, and recalled some of the achievements of Miss Marion Scott, one of our founders, as performer and critic. After the party, members and guests were taken on a conducted tour of both Houses.

On the following day, Sunday, July 16th, a Younger Members' Concert was held at 4 St. James's Square (by kind permission of the Arts Council). The artists were: Gillian Sansom, violin; Delia Woolford, contralto; Anna Myers, piano; Jacqueline Du Pré, cello; with Daphne Ibbott and Iris Du Pré, accompanists. The concert was memorable for the high standard already achieved by these attractive young people and the brilliant promise held out for the future. The room was overflowing with an enthusiastic audience. Mrs. Barbara Bendixson most generously gave the tea, very efficiently served to the large crowd by her band of helpers. After tea, artists and audience went to Choral Evensong at St. James's, Piccadilly. This was a moving experience. The Vicar, the Rev. J. S. Brewis, introduced a thanksgiving for the Society's jubilee and a prayer for Miss Eggar. The organist, Mr. Hylton-Stewart, and choir provided music of great beauty; in particular, Parry's 'My Soul, there is a Country.'

On Monday, July 17th, the Society gave a concert at the Wigmore Hall. Her Royal Highness Princess Alexandra of Kent honoured the occasion with her presence, attended by the Lady Moyra Hamilton. Her Royal Highness's love of music is well-known, and it was gratifying to have continued proof of her interest in the Society. (It will be remembered that she came to a concert at 4 St. James's Square in 1957.) Her evident enjoyment of the concert, and her grace and charm captivated all present. On her arrival at Wigmore Hall Her Royal Highness was met by the officers of the Society. Members of the Council and their husbands were presented to her. After the concert the artists: Nancy Evans, Phyllis Spurr, Thea King, Patricia Lynden, Maria Korchinska, Joan Davies, and the English String Quartet (Nona Liddell, Eleanor St. George, Marjorie Lempfert and Helen Just) were presented, and also (at Her Royal Highness's special request) the young artists from the previous day's concert.

Our happiness during this Jubilee week-end was only mitigated by sorrow that Miss Katharine Eggar was unable to be present with us. But even in her illness she took the keenest interest in all that was happening and was delighted at its success.

Ella Ivimey Concerts.

It gives the Council great pleasure to report the growing success of these concerts. Audiences are increasing, and standards of performance are becoming higher. Many members use them as try-outs before Wigmore Hall or other recitals. This success is due in no small measure to the enthusiastic and tireless work of Margaret Bissett and Dorothea Aspinall.

A special Ivimey Concert was held at 4 St. James's Square to mark the Society's 50th Anniversary. The artists were: Jennifer Ward Clarke, Fiona Cameron, Anne Griffin, Dorothy Marshall, Elizabeth Powell, Betty Mills, Margaret Hubicki.

Auditions.

Many professional members of the Society have served on the panels at these auditions which help us to plan our concerts.

Marion Scott Prize.

The Marion Scott Prize, this year for string players, was awarded to Penelope Howard, violin, by the panel of judges: Jean Stewart, Helen Just, Lilly Phillips and Vera Kantrovitch. The standard of performance was high.

Membership.

The Council is glad to report once more a steady increase in membership. If some members were not so forgetful, we should be able to boast a similar increase in revenue!

The Council's Thanks.

As always, Miss Alice Martin heads the list of those to whom heartfelt thanks are due. It would be hard to express all we owe to her. In the anniversary year the burden has been unusually heavy, but she has faced the task in her usual inimitable way.

Our thanks also go to Mrs. Barbara Bendixson and her team of helpers, who provide and serve the refreshments, a most valuable service, and one always greatly appreciated.

We are deeply grateful to Miss Olive Giddings for her expert handling of our accounts.

The Council's thanks are due to all those who lend their rooms for the Ivimey concerts, and to many others who in various ways help the Society's work.

Finally we must express our thanks to the Arts Council for the continued use of 4 St. James's Square.

Congratulations to Jennifer Ward Clarke who won the Third Prize ($600) in the International Cello Contest held in Israel; also to Mary Nemet (violin) who shared the Australian Royal Trust Fund Prize awarded annually to Australian musicians in London.

Compositions.

Composers and performers are invited to send in works to the Office, suitable for future concerts.

Auditions.

Three auditions will be held annually. Will members please apply to Miss Jean Stewart, 123 George Street, W.1 (AMB. 5175).

K.E.E.

To S.W.M. members of my generation Katharine Eggar stood as a symbol of ageless continuity. While other distinguished women came and went as office-holders down the years, Katharine remained constant, tirelessly devoting her rare powers of leadership and imagination to extending the scope of the Society and to widening the horizons of individual members. She was always there. No S.W.M. meeting would have seemed complete without her presence and her invariably apt opening and closing remarks. From early days, budding composers with few musical contacts were her especial care. It was as the youngest of a little group of the Society's composer members who used to assemble periodically at Katharine's flat in Kensington during the First World War for discussion and criticism of their work that I first came under the spell of this uniquely gifted woman, my senior by twenty-one years. The spell had lost none of its strength when I stood last August at the graveside of one who had been my close friend and counsellor during forty-five years. How sorely shall we miss our venerable Chairman: in old age still youthful and erect in figure, her mind still open to new currents of thought, her intense seriousness ever counterpoised by her unquenchable love of fun. We shall not look upon her like again.

KATHLEEN DALE.

My first contact with Katharine Eggar was during my student years between the wars, when she wrote and asked me if I would join the S.W.M. The subscription was rather more than my pocket-money could afford, and I declined. She waited and asked me again, and I accepted, and fairly early on, crossed swords with her on a point about which I felt keenly. She conceded it, ending her letter: 'I hope I shall always be your friend, K.E.E.' It was her sheer generosity that conquered me. Respect for her I had always—love came later, with the abiding privilege and interest of association with her active and questing mind. Her Scots reserve, with her innately aristocratic tradition proved a stumbling-block to some, for she was always herself and never departed from her standards. But there can be few she did not win by her particular combination of adamant principles, broadmindedness, humour and humility. She always had faith in the best of each one of us, and one of her favourite dicta of anybody was 'We'll tame them, my dear!' She was a great civilising influence in the world. How many of us realise this now, with lifelong gratitude for the dedicated loving care she had for us all. Her children indeed rise up and call her blessed.

ELIZABETH POSTON.
